About

Galaxie was always planned to be a large family of families, all designed to work together. Polaris is the first Galaxie typeface to be completed, followed by the script typeface Galaxie Cassiopeia, and an egyptian face is in the pipeline. Polaris was named for the pole star, and is the reference point for the development of the rest of the families. The typeface is compliant with Microsoft's Longhorn glyphset, and contains every accented glyph recommended for roman text setting by The Chicago Manual of Style, 15th Edition, plus a few more.

POLARIS (alpha UMi / alpha Ursae Minoris / Alpha Ursae Minoris), or more commonly known as The North Star or simply North Star, is the brightest star in the constellation Ursa Minor. It is very close to the north celestial pole (42' away as of 2006), making it the current northern pole star.

POLARIS COMES FROM STELLA POLARIS, THE LATIN FORM OF ITS COMMON NAME POLAR STAR. THE RARELY USED CYNOSURA COMES FROM THE GREEK LANGUAGE AND MEANS THE DOG-TAILED ONE — IT IS THE SOURCE OF THE ENGLISH WORD CYNOSURE. OTHER NAMES INCLUDE THE NORTH STAR / NORTHERN STAR, THE LODGE STAR / LOAD STAR, OR SOMETIMES POLARIS BOREALIS.

Because a UMi lies nearly in a direct line with the axis of the Earth's rotation "above" the North Pole — the north celestial pole — Polaris stands almost motionless on the sky, and all the stars of the Northern sky appear to rotate around it. Therefore, it makes an excellent fixed point from which to draw measurements for celestial navigation and for astrometry. The antiquity of its use is attested by the fact that it is found represented on the earliest known Assyrian tablets. At present, Polaris is 0.7° away from the pole of rotation (1.4 times the Moon disc) and hence revolves around the pole in a small circle 1½° in diameter. Only twice during every sidereal day does Polaris accurately define the true north azimuth; the rest of the time it is only an approximation and must be corrected using tables or a rough rule of thumb.

An artist's concept of Polaris' system

Due to the precession of the equinoxes, Polaris will not always be the pole star. Over tens of thousands of years, perturbations to the Earth's axis of rotation will cause it to point to other regions of the sky, tracing out a circle. Other stars along this circle were the pole star in the past and will be again in the future, including Thuban and Vega. In the near future, Polaris is due to become an even more accurate pole star; the distance between Polaris and the pole will reach a minimum (of just under ½ degree) in 2100.

In the Northern Hemisphere, it is easy to find Polaris by following the line traced from Merak to Dubhe, the two stars at the end of the bowl of the Big Dipper. One can also follow the central point of the 'W' shape of Cassiopeia. Polaris is not visible from the Southern Hemisphere except from an elevated position near the equator.

Polaris's fame as the North Star has given rise to a common misconception that it is the brightest star in the sky. Although Polaris is a bright star and is conspicuous since no other stars of similar brightness are close to it, it is nowhere near the brightest; it is actually only the 48th brightest star in the night sky. The brightest star in the sky (besides the Sun) is Sirius.

Polaris B can be seen even with a modest telescope and was first noticed by William Herschel in 1780. In 1929, it was discovered by examining the spectrum of Polaris A that it had another very close dwarf companion, which had been theorized in earlier observations. In January '06, NASA released images from the Hubble telescope, directly showing all three members of the Polaris ternary system. The nearer dwarf star is in an orbit of only 18.5 AU (2.8 billion km; about the distance from our Sun to Uranus) from Polaris A, explaining why its light is swamped by its close and much brighter companion, Polaris B.

Aðildarríkin hafa bundizt samtökum um að efla almenna virðingu fyrir og gæzlu hinna mikilsverðustu mannréttinda í samráði við Sameinuðu þjóðirnar.

12 / 15

Til þess að slík samtök megi sem best takast, er það ákaflega mikilvægt, að almennur skilningur verði vakinn á eðli slíkra réttinda og frjálsræðis.

14 / 17

Fyrir því hefur allsherjarþing Sameinuðu þjóðanna fallizt á mannréttindayfirlýsingu þá, sem hér með er birt öllum þjóðum og ríkjum til fyrirmyndar. Skulu einstaklingar og yfirvöld jafnan hafa yfirlýsingu þessa í huga og kappkosta með fræðslu og uppeldi að efla virðingu fyrir réttindum þeim og frjálstræði, sem hér er að stefnt. Ber og hverjum einum að stuðla þeim framförum, innan ríkis og ríkja í milli, er að markmiðum yfirlýsingarinnar stefna, tryggja almenna og virka viðurkenningu á grundvallaratriðum hennar og sjá um, að þau verði í heiðri höfó, bæði meðal þjóða aðildarríkjanna sjálfra og meðal þjóða á landsvæðum þeim, er hlita lögsögu aðildarríkja.

Trzecia Sesja Ogólnego Zgromadzenia ONZ, obradująca w Paryżu, uchwaliła 10 grudnia 1948 roku jednogłośnie Powszechną Deklarację Praw Człowieka. Dokument ten stanowi niewątpliwie jedno z największych i najtrwalszych osiągnięć ONZ. Przetłumaczona na większość języków świata Powszechna Deklaracja Praw Człowieka zbiera oraz porządkuje osiągnięcia i postulaty człowieka, który od wielu setek lat toczy nie skończoną jeszcze walkę o swoją wolność i swoją godność.

7 / 9

Zważywszy, że uznanie przyrodzonej godności oraz równych i niezbywalnych praw wszystkich członków wspólnoty ludzkiej jest podstawą wolności, sprawiedliwości i pokoju świata,

8 / 10

Zważywszy, że nieposzanowanie i nieprzestrzeganie praw człowieka doprowadziło do aktów barbarzyństwa, które wstrząsnęły sumieniem ludzkości, i że ogłoszono uroczyste jako najwznioślejszy cel ludzkości dążenie do zbudowania takiego świata, w którym ludzie korzystać będą z wolności słowa i przekonań oraz z wolności od strachu i nędzy,

9 / 11

Zważywszy, że konieczne jest zawarowanie praw człowieka przepisami prawa, aby nie musiał — doprowadzony do ostateczności — uciekać się do buntu przeciw tyranii i uciskowi,

10 / 12

Zważywszy, że konieczne jest popieranie rozwoju przyjaznych stosunków między narodami,

11 / 13

Zważywszy, że Narody Zjednoczone przywróciły swą wiarę w podstawowe prawa człowieka, godność i wartość jednostki oraz w równouprawnienie mężczyzn i kobiet, oraz wyraziły swe zdecydowanie popierania postępu społecznego i poprawy warunków życia w większej wolności,

12 / 15

Zważywszy, że Państwa Członkowskie podjęły się we współpracy z Organizacją Narodów Zjednoczonych zapewnić powszechne poszanowanie i przestrzeganie praw człowieka i podstawowych wolności,

14 / 17

Zważywszy, że jednakowe rozumienie tych praw i wolności ma olbrzymie znaczenie dla ich pełnej realizacji, Przeto zgromadzenie ogólne Ogłasza Uroczyste niniejszą Powszechną Deklarację Praw Człowieka jako wspólny najwyższy cel wszystkich ludów i wszystkich narodów, aby wszyscy ludzie i wszystkie organy społeczeństwa — mając stale w pamięci niniejszą Deklarację — dążyły w drodze nauczania i wychowywania do rozwijania poszanowania tych praw i wolności i aby zapewniły za pomocą postępowych środków o zasięgu krajowym i międzynarodowym powszechne i skuteczne uznanie i stosowanie tej Deklaracji zarówno wśród narodów Państw Członkowskich, jak i wśród narodów zamieszkujących obszary podległe ich władzy.

Considerando que o reconhecimento da dignidade inerente a todos os membros da família humana e dos seus direitos iguais e inalienáveis constitui o fundamento da liberdade, da justiça e da paz no mundo;

7 / 9

Considerando que o desconhecimento e o desprezo dos direitos do Homem conduziram a actos de barbárie que revoltam a consciência da Humanidade e que o advento de um mundo em que os seres humanos sejam livres de falar e de crer, libertos do terror e da miséria, foi proclamado como a mais alta inspiração do Homem;

8 / 10

Considerando que é essencial a proteção dos direitos do Homem através de um regime de direito, para que o Homem não seja compelido, em supremo recurso, à revolta contra a tirania e a opressão;

9 / 11

Considerando que é essencial encorajar o desenvolvimento de relações amistosas entre as nações;

10 / 12

Considerando que, na Carta, os povos das Nações Unidas proclamam, de novo, a sua fé nos direitos fundamentais do Homem, na dignidade e no valor da pessoa humana, na igualdade de direitos dos homens e das mulheres e se declaram resolvidos a favorecer o progresso social e a instaurar melhores condições de vida dentro de uma liberdade mais ampla;

11 / 13

Considerando que os Estados membros se comprometeram a promover, em cooperação com a Organização das Nações Unidas, o respeito universal e efectivo dos direitos do Homem e das liberdades fundamentais;

End user license agreement (EULA)

Version 1.0 / July 2011

This is an agreement between you, the purchaser, and Constellation. In accepting the terms of this agreement, you acknowledge understanding and promise to comply with its terms. If you do not accept the terms, please do not complete the purchase transaction.

What you are purchasing from Constellation is the license to use digital typeface software — hereafter “fonts” — on a certain number of computers within your organization; you are not purchasing the copy-right to the design of the fonts, but the rights to use the fonts.

The fonts are provided in CFF-flavored OpenType (OTF) format. Additional formats may be available upon demand, and may require the purchase of supplemental licensing.

When purchasing licensing for fonts, you may use the fonts on the maximum number of computers within your organization as specified in the license table. You can purchase additional licenses at any time, which grant you the rights to use the fonts on additional computers.

The fonts may not be used with any webfont replacement technologies without the purchase of supplemental licensing. Webfonts are provided in WOFF, EOT and SVG formats. Please see the license table.

The fonts may not be embedded in other documents, such as Portable Document Format (PDF), Flash files (including sIFR), Word or PowerPoint without the purchase of supplemental licensing. Please see the license table.

You may make archival copies of the fonts for your own purposes. You may not distribute the fonts to people outside of your organization. A copy of the fonts may be sent as part of a file release to a prepress bureau, if absolutely necessary.

You may not modify, convert, adapt, decompile, or otherwise reverse engineer or create derivative works of the fonts.

We have done everything we can to produce our fonts to the highest and most up-to-date technical standards, and we test the fonts extensively in the latest versions of technically-compliant applications. If you do experience any difficulties with our fonts, we will work with you to resolve any technical issues in the fonts. If, after we have worked to resolve any technical issues, you are still not satisfied with our software, we will be pleased to refund your money, which shall be the limit of our liability in this transaction.

We grant the rights of use of our fonts to you in good faith, and request that you adhere to the terms of this agreement to the best of your ability, and in good faith.
