The fourth largest city in Morocco, preceeded by Casablanca, Fez and also Tangier.

24PT

THIS IS THE CAPITAL CITY OF THE MID-SOUTHWESTERN REGION OF MARRAKESH-SAFI. LOCATED TO THE NORTH OF THE FOOTHILLS OF THE SNOW-CAPPED ATLAS MOUNTAINS.

VILLAGE

18PT

Marrakesh is the second most important of Morocco's four former imperial cities after Fez. The region has been inhabited by Berber farmers since Neolithic times, but the actual city was founded in 1062, by Abu Bakr ibn Umar, chieftain and cousin of Almoravid king Yusuf ibn Tashfin. In the 12th century, the Almoravids built many madrasas and mosques in the city.

64PT

Casablanca

32PT

The largest city in the Maghreb region, and one of the largest and most important cities in Africa.

24PT

CASABLANCA IS MOROCCO'S CHIEF PORT AND ONE OF THE LARGEST FINANCIAL CENTERS ON THE CONTINENT. IT HAS A POPULATION OF ABOUT 3.35 MILLION IN THE URBAN AREA.

VILLAGE

18PT

Recent industrial statistics show this city holds its recorded position as the primary industrial zone of the nation. The Port of Casablanca is one of the largest artificial ports in the world, and is the second largest port of North Africa, after Tanger-Med which is 40 km east of Tangier. Casablanca also hosts the primary naval base for the Royal Moroccan Navy.

64PT

Tangier

32PT

The city of Tangier is on the Maghreb coast at the western entrance to the Strait of Gibraltar.

24PT

TANGIER WAS ONCE KNOWN AS COLONIA JULIA TINGI AFTER ITS ELEVATION TO COLONY STATUS DURING THE ROMAN EMPIRE. IT HAS ALSO BEEN REFERRED TO AS BOUGHAZ.

VILLAGE

Tangier's geographic location made it a cockpit of European diplomatic and commercial rivalry in Morocco in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. By the 1870s, it was the site of every foreign embassy and consul in Morocco but only held about 400 foreign residents out of a total population of around 20,000. The city increasingly came under French influence, and it was here in 1905 that Kaiser Wilhelm II.

16PT Many civilisations and cultures have influenced the history of Tangier, starting from before the 5th century. Between the period of being a strategic Berber town and then a Phoenician trading centre to the independence era around the 1950s, Tangier was a nexus for many cultures. In 1923, it was considered as having international status by foreign colonial powers and became a destination for many European and American diplomats.

14PT Tangier was founded as a Phoenician colony, possibly as early as the 10th century and almost certainly by the 8th century. The majority of Berber tombs around Tangier had Punic jewelry by the 6th century, speaking to abundant trade by that time. The Carthaginians developed it as an important port of their empire by the 5th century. It was likely involved with the expeditions of Hanno the Navigator.

12PT THE GREEKS KNEW THIS TOWN AS TINGIS AND, WITH SOME MODIFICATION, RECORDED THE BERBER LEGENDS OF ITS FOUNDING. SUPPOSEDLY TINJIS, DAUGHTER OF ATLAS AND WIDOW OF ANTAEUS, SLEPT WITH HERCULES AND BORE HIM THE SON SYPHAX. AFTER TINJIS' DEATH, SYPHAX THEN FOUNDED THE PORT AND NAMED IT IN HER HONOUR. THE GIGANTIC SKELETON AND TOMB OF ANTAEUS WERE TOURIST ATTRACTIONS FOR ANCIENT VISITORS.

9PT Tingis came under the control of the Roman ally Mauretania during the Punic Wars. Q. Sertorius, in his war against Sulla's regime in Rome, took and held Tingis for a number of years in the 70s BCE. *It was subsequently returned to the Mauretians but established as a republican free city during the reign of Bocchus III in 38 BCE.

Tingis received certain municipal privileges under Augustus and became a Roman colony under Claudius, who made it the provincial capital of Mauretania Tingitana. Under Diocletian's 291 reforms, it became the seat of a count and Tingitana's governor. At the same time, the province itself shrank to little more than the ports along the coast and, owing to the Great Persecution, Tingis was also the scene of the martyrdoms by beheading of Saints Marcellus and Cassian in 298. Tingis remained the largest settlement in its province in the 4th century and was greatly developed. Tangier was formally known as Colonia Julia Tingi.

64PT

Khouribga

32PT

The Province of Khouribga is bordered by the Province of Beni Mellal in the east, Province of Ben Slimane.

24PT

THE PROVINCE OF KHOURIBGA HAS A LARGE PHOSPHATE RESERVE ESTIMATED TO BE 35-40 BILLION CUBIC METERS. IT IS A CITY THAT BRINGS HARD CURRENCY DUE TO ITS RESIDENTS FROM ITALY.

VILLAGE

Khouribga is located 820 meters above sea level on the Ouardigha plateau. The city was founded in 1923 by the authorities of the French protectorate when they discovered phosphate in the region, for which Morocco is considered to be the biggest exporter in the world. There are several mines in the province, most notably the mine of Sidi Shennan near the town of Oued Zem, which lies 30 km from the village of Boulanouar and the town of Boujniba.

16PT Morocco is a unitary constitutional monarchy with an elected parliament. The country wields significant influence in both Africa and the Arab world, and is considered a regional power and a middle power. The King of Morocco holds vast executive and legislative powers, especially over the military, foreign policy and religious affairs. Executive power is exercised by the government, while legislative power is vested in both the government and the two chambers of parliament, the Assemblies of Representatives and Councillors.

14PT Morocco's predominant religion is Islam, and its official languages are Arabic and Berber, the latter achieving official recognition in 2011, having been the native language of Morocco before the Muslim conquest in the seventh century C.E. The Moroccan dialect of Arabic, referred to as Darija, and French are also widely spoken. Moroccan culture is a blend of Berber, Arab, Sephardi Jews, West African and European influences.

12PT THE AREA OF PRESENT-DAY MOROCCO HAS BEEN INHABITED SINCE PALEOLITHIC TIMES, SOMETIME BETWEEN 190,000 AND 90,000 BC. A RECENT PUBLICATION MAY DEMONSTRATE AN EVEN EARLIER HABITATION PERIOD, AS HOMO SAPIEN FOSSILS DISCOVERED IN THE LATE 2000'S NEAR THE ATLANTIC COAST IN JEBEL IRHOUD WERE RECENTLY DATED TO ROUGHLY 315,000 YEARS AGO. DURING THE UPPER PALEOLITHIC, THE MAGHREB WAS MORE FERTILE THAN IT IS TODAY, RESEMBLING A SAVANNA MORE THAN AN ARID LANDSCAPE.

9PT The Muslim conquest of the Maghreb, that started in the middle of the 7th century, was achieved by the Umayyad Caliphate early into the following century. It brought both the Arabic language and Islam to the area. Although part of the larger Islamic Empire, Morocco was initially organized as a subsidiary province of Ifriqiya, with the local governors appointed by the Muslim governor in Kairouan.

The indigenous Berber tribes adopted Islam, but retained their customary laws. They also paid taxes and tribute to the new Muslim administration.

According to medieval legend, Idris ibn Abdallah had fled to Morocco after the Abbasids' massacre of his tribe in Iraq. He convinced the Awraba Berber tribes to break their allegiance to the distant Abbasid caliphs in Baghdad and he founded the Idrisid dynasty in 788. The Idrisids established Fes as their capital and Morocco became a centre of Muslim learning and a major regional power. The Idrissids were ousted in 927 by the Fatimid Caliphate and their Miknasa allies. Miknasa broke off relations with the Fatimids in 932, they were removed from power by the Maghrawa of Sijilmasa in 980.
